Mayo's Island.

So far the most apparent result of the work in progress is the temporary cable line being erected by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company to supply telephone service to South Richmond. For many years these cables have been carried on poles attached to one side of the old bridge. Now a system of overhead cables is heing constructed on poles about 100 feet north of the bridge right of way. At present the telephone lines are taken in underground conduits to the north end of the bridge. When the new structure is completed they will north end of the bridge. When the new structure is completed they will be carried across in containing the underground service will be continued up Hull Street, thus supplying the busi-ness section of South Richmond tele-phone service, despite storms and Fences have been moved back on Mayo's Island, showing the city's right of way, and the oid houses will shortby be demolished, save such as are to be used for storage of material pending construction. City Engineer Boiling has directed that as soon as the ing has directed that as soon as the Mayo's Bridge is actually closed to traffic, the city watchmen employed there be transferred to the Free Bridge at the foot of Ninth Street, thus giving a double guard on that structure,

Con- countered in a fall of probably twentractor I. J. Smith, who is beginning ty-five feet from the top of a buildtractor I. J. Smith, who is beginning to assemble material and machinery on the ground, says that there is no necessity of stopping traffic until the placing of machinery and derricks actually blocks the roadway. Even then a workman's footpath will remain open, and it is anticipated that at all times some provision will be made by which members of the Virginia Boat Club can reach their club house on Mayo's Island.

A Safe and Sane Fourth Of July is what we hope for to-morrow, not only in

Richmond, but throughout the whole country, where, in one degree or another, the "Spirit of '76" will be revived and celebrated. As free American citizens we should claim our heritage of independence in every way. The most substantial aid to real freedom of thought and action will be found in a growing Savings; Account in the American National Bank of Richmond, Virginia.
